Treat the Patient, Heal the Person:
Embracing Spiritual and Cultural Diversity in Contemporary Health Practices

A conference co-sponsored by the Global Healthcare Innovation Management Center and the Fordham Center on Religion and Culture

Fordham University | Lincoln Center Campus
12th Floor Lounge | E. Gerald Corrigan Conference Center
March 8, 2016 | 8:45am to 5:45pm

Registration and Breakfast
8:00-8:45am

Welcome
8:45-9:00

Session I: What Does It Mean to Be Healthy? Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Well-Being 9:00-10:15

Speaker

Moderator
James P. McCartin, Fordham Center on Religion and Culture

Break
10:15-10:30

Session II: The Case for Diversity: Why Medicine Needs Faith and Culture 10:30-11:45

Panelists
Richard Shweder, University of Chicago
Rosanne Haggerty, Community Solutions
Marc Galanter, NYU Langone Medical Center

Moderator
Falguni Sen, Global Healthcare Innovation Management Center

Lunch
11:45am-1:00pm

Session III: New Directions in Behavioral Healthcare: What Value Do Faith, Family, and Community Add to Diagnosis and Care?
1:00-2:15

Panelists
Nancy Kehoe, Expanding Connections
Lisa J. Miller, Columbia University Teachers College
Barry S. Anton, past president, American Psychological Association

Moderator
Roberto Lewis-Fernandez, Columbia University Medical School

Break
2:15-2:30

Session IV: Completing the Cycle of Care: Integrating Behavioral, Spiritual, and Physical Health in Elder Care
2:30-3:45

Panelists
M. Carrington Reid, Weill Cornell Medical College
Alan Dienstag, clinical psychologist
Jeanne Dennis, former senior vice president, Visiting Nurse Service of NY

Moderator
Rachel Cowan, Institute for Jewish Spirituality’s Wise Aging Initiative

Break
3:45-4:00

Session V: Spiritual and Cultural Diversity under the Affordable Care Act: Practical Challenges and Opportunities for Providers
4:00-5:15

Speaker
To be announced

Moderator
To be announced

Session V: Wrap-up
5:20-5:45

Speakers
Falguni Sen
James P. McCartin