The 2019 IALC Summer Institute “Many Worlds, One City” is a unique language immersion program that takes learning out of the classroom and into the real world. Over three unforgettable weeks, participants sharpen their English language skills in an innovative model that combines intensive classwork with topical and interactive excursions into the vibrant neighborhoods of New York. Participants reinforce their learning with hands-on experience while exploring one of the world’s most dynamic and fascinating hubs of creativity and multiculturalism.
ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Classes at the 2019 IALC Summer Institute strengthen language proficiency and critical thinking skills and provide first-hand exposure to the unique participatory style of American academia. Program participants expand vocabulary, master grammar in context, and build confidence using English every day, all while experiencing what life is like as a student at a top-level American university.

Welcome to New York, the "Capital of the World"

Poised at the intersection of modernity and tradition and the meeting point of cultures from all over the world, New York is the ideal language laboratory. Guided field trips and planned excursions maximize opportunities for participants to practice their language skills in authentic settings. Participants visit iconic New York sites such as the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Liberty Island, and the United Nations, as well as the many hidden gems that make the city such unique place.

Session 2: Art, Technology and Creativity
July 18 - July 27

*Please note that this schedule is subject to change and will be updated as new events and programming options in the city are announced.
At Home in Midtown Manhattan

During the 2019 IALC Summer Institute participants stay in McMahon Hall located at Fordham’s Lincoln Center campus, very near Central Park, Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts, Columbus Circle, and the Hudson River. Dorm rooms are arranged apartment-style, some with shared kitchen facilities. The neighborhood is well-lit and frequented by both visitors and residents, making for a safe and lively environment.

While on-campus housing provides the most authentic taste of life as a Fordham student in one of New York’s most desirable locales, it is not mandatory. Participants who are based in the local area and may not need housing are very welcome to join the program, including all classes and excursions.

REGISTRATION

Registration Checklist

NOVEMBER 20, 2018: REGISTRATION OPENS.
You can register through the IALC website (click here). Full tuition payment is due at the time you register.

APRIL - JUNE, 2019: MAKE TRAVEL ARRANGEMENTS.
All participants in the 2019 IALC Summer Institute “Living and Learning New York” must have a tourist visa (B-2) allowing them to enter and reside in the United States for the full length of the program. The cost of transportation and travel insurance and visa fees are not covered by the tuition fee. Participants must arrange their own transportation to and from New York and are encouraged to book their transportation as soon as their registration is confirmed.

APRIL 15, 2019: REGISTRATION CLOSES.
Full tuition payment must be submitted online no later than April 15, 2019. After you submit payment, the IALC will forward you a letter confirming your placement in the program. Once you receive confirmation that your place in the program has been reserved, you must immediately begin making travel and housing arrangements.

JULY 8, 2019: IALC SUMMER INSTITUTE STARTS.
New York is my campus. Fordham is my school.

Following Fordham University’s ethos of cura personalis, or “educating the whole person”, the Institute of American Language and Culture (IALC) at Fordham is committed to equipping students with communication and cross-cultural skills critical for academic and professional success. The IALC’s team of dedicated instructors bring years of experience in fields such as law, business, education, and the arts into the language classroom, creating a dynamic blend of specialized content and English language instruction.

For over 30 years, IALC has welcomed students from more than 40 countries, and we are proud of the diverse nationalities, cultures, language backgrounds, and educational goals represented in our community of past, current and future students.
