Fordham Law School graduates are smart, responsible, and capable practitioners as well as community leaders. Not only do they get the job done, they get the job done right. At Fordham Law School I was taught the importance of establishing a strong foundation in ethics and professional responsibility. "In the service of others" is not just the Fordham Law motto but also a way of life.

Fordham Law equips its students with all the necessary tools to become outstanding lawyers. The curriculum is balanced in such a way that graduates obtain equal parts of legal principles together with fundamental lawyering skills. This integrated balance of theory and practice allows Fordham lawyers to rise to challenges in the legal marketplace and anticipate developments as the law evolves in the 21st century.

Court for the Southern District of Florida

I was attracted to Fordham Law School because of its Jesuit educational tradition and values. My Fordham legal education instilled in me the value of service to others. For more than 40 years, the formative influence of my Fordham Law School education has remained the most significant contributing factor in my legal career.

The Fordham Law degree is very valuable in South Florida because of the strength of our network. We regularly refer business to one another, and the more experienced alumni are actively involved in helping young attorneys start their careers. I've personally hired two recent graduates, and they were both fantastic associates.

For more than a century, Fordham Law graduates have helped build and enhance America's most prominent firms, corporations, and public service endeavors. Their beneficial presence is evident in 49 states and 80 countries worldwide. That presence is significant in the Miami area, where Fordham Law graduates are practitioners in the most prominent firms. These Miami-based Fordham lawyers form a vital network through the area as well as a connection to current Fordham Law students who are intent on practicing there.

Now you can tap into the wealth of Miami-focused Fordham Law students through the Fordham Law Resume Advance Program.

It's a no-risk program that quickly and efficiently brings motivated, talented individuals to your attention.

Resume Advance

Fordham Law's Resume Advance Program is the fastest, most direct way for out-of-town employers who have not yet participated in our On-Campus Interview Program to familiarize themselves with the well-qualified, extremely motivated, high-performing students of Fordham Law.

Nationally recognized for the quality of its scholarship as well as its focus on the craft of lawyering and instilling a spirit of public service, Fordham's complete legal education shapes uniquely qualified graduates. In fact, Fordham Law is one of the top 25 law schools measured in terms of Class of 2017 initial employment with Big Law (firms with 101+ attorneys) and federal clerkships reported to the ABA.

No Risk, No Fee

Through this program, employers have no advance commitment to interview at Fordham Law. Registered employers receive resumes from students with a strong interest in working at their organizations in their cities. Upon review of the resumes, employers have the option to schedule a visit to Fordham Law to interview as many or as few students as they wish. Employers receive resumes in early July, and there is no fee to participate in this program.

High Rewards

Employers have 100% selection of the students they wish to interview. This differs from the traditional Fall On-Campus Interview Program, where employers select only 60% of the students on their interview schedules. The Resume Advance Program serves to introduce employers from across the nation to the strength of our exceptional student body—a strength that attracts hundreds of repeat participating employers to our On-Campus Interview Program each year.

Flexibility

Employers who choose to visit Fordham Law after reviewing resumes have their choice of interview dates during our Early Interview Week. In 2019, Early Interview Week will take place July 29–August 1. This portion of the program typically coincides with Early Interview Week programs at Columbia and NYU, giving employers the convenience of making one interview trip to New York City.

How to Participate

Interested employers should contact Assistant Dean Suzanne Endrizzi via email at sendrizzi@law.fordham.edu or by phone at 212-636-7157.
