FORDHAM UNIVERSITY
THE JESUIT UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

FORDHAM SCHOOL OF
PROFESSIONAL AND CONTINUING STUDIES

TUITION AND FEES - ACADEMIC YEAR 2017-2018

Tuition, per credit ......................................................................................................................... $882.00
General University fee (per semester)* ................................................................................. 95.00
Technology Access fee (per semester) .............................................................................. 69.00

*The General University Fee replaces a number of specific fees which some universities assess individually: registration, adding/dropping a course, changing an INComplete or ABsent grade, fee for a computer laboratory course, student accident insurance, student activities fee, graduation, and diploma mailing. At Fordham, no fees beyond this one are charged for these items and services.

Fordham extends full data access not only to residential students, but to commuting students as well. This includes E-Mail, Library and other university systems, and the Internet.

APPLICATION FEE .................................................................................................................. 40.00

Optional Or User-Specific Fees:
Late Tuition Payment Fee ...................................................................................................... 1.5% monthly
Laboratory Fee (for each laboratory course in biology, chemistry, natural science, physics, and psychology per semester) ................................................................. 75.00
Film Course Fee ..................................................................................................................... 25.00
Graphic Design ...................................................................................................................... 75.00
Photography ............................................................................................................................. 150.00
Video and Film Production .................................................................................................... 100.00
Life Experience Credit/Portfolio Review Program ................................................................. 882.00
Credit By Examination Fee .................................................................................................... 300.00
Financial Aid Transcript Fee, per copy .................................................................................. 5.00
Replacement of Picture I.D. Card ............................................................................................ 25.00
Lombardi Athletic Center Membership:
Full-Time Student .................................................................................................................... n/c
Part-Time Student .................................................................................................................... 125.00
Parking (Rose Hill & Westchester) ........................................................................................ 125.00

Payment may be made with cash, personal check, Master Card, VISA, or American Express. The University also offers several payment plans. Other details on financial regulations, the refund schedule for withdrawals from courses, etc., are contained in the current Bulletin. Tuition and fees are subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees.

(over)
Financial Aid and Scholarship Assistance

Financial Aid is available for both full- and part-time students. In order to receive financial aid, please complete the FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) online at fafsa.ed.gov. For purposes of financial aid, full-time students are those who take 12 or more credits per semester; part-time students take 6 to 11 credits. The Office of Student Financial Services on each campus assists students in identifying programs of grants, scholarships, and loans with which to fund part of their education. They also assist with the application process for Federal Pell Grants, New York State’s Tuition Assistance Plan (TAP), Aid to Part-time Students (APTS), Stafford Student Loan Programs, and can provide information on the Hope Scholarship Federal Tax Credit for part-time adult students.

In addition to the availability of these aid and loan programs, Fordham is one of the few universities which offers grant and scholarship funds from its own resources to assist adult learners. In Fordham School of Professional and Continuing Studies, students can qualify for:

- University Grants-in-Aid ranging from $1,500 to $3,000 annually, based primarily on financial need.
- Dean’s Scholarships of $3,500 annually, for newly-admitted students whose prior records and/or performance in the admissions skills assessment demonstrate outstanding promise, regardless of financial need. Scholarships are renewable for up to five years, assuming a B average in at least four courses per year.
- Achievement Awards of $3,500 for continuing students based solely upon class rank for the prior academic year, during which the student must have completed at least four courses.

A number of donation- or grant-funded sources of aid are also available specifically for adult students at Fordham, including:

- The Ully Hirsch Scholarship, awarded annually to a student who has demonstrated academic excellence by achieving a 3.0 cumulative GPA after earning at least 24 credits.
- The Tognino Family Scholarship, established by John N. Tognino ’75, providing partial scholarship support to a Fordham College of Liberal Studies or Evening College of Business Administration student on the basis of academic merit and financial need.
- The Charlotte W. Newcombe Foundation Scholarships, awarded to woman students who are age 25 or over and who have earned at least 60 credits with a 2.5 cumulative GPA.

And all students in the Fordham School of Professional and Continuing Studies benefit from the tuition rate of $882 per credit - - a rate set with the realities of the adult learner in mind. This is more affordable than comparable universities, and considerably less than the full-time day tuition for a Fordham University education.