Director’s Note

Drawing on a long-standing tradition in Jesuit education, we are committed to supporting and promoting global diversity as well as helping you gain an understanding of the complexities that stem from our increasingly interconnected and interdependent world. There is no better way for you to broaden knowledge of yourself, your academic discipline, and the world around you than by embarking on a program abroad. We hope this brochure provides you with a brief overview of the many international study opportunities available to you as a Fordham student. Please also visit our website and stop by our offices. We very much look forward to working with you. The world is your classroom!

-Joseph Renti, Ph.D., Director of Study Abroad

“For Fordham Study Abroad has brought me to some of the most beautiful places in the world. As a U.S. military veteran and non-traditional student, it can sometimes be challenging to get involved in Fordham activities, but study abroad solves this. I met great people and made great friends both times!”

- Phillip Gregor, USAF Veteran, Rome Athenium

Short-term Programs

Short-term study abroad programs typically range from two to four weeks allowing students who would otherwise be unable to commit to a semester or full-year overseas an opportunity to incorporate a global experience into their education. Study abroad staff work with Fordham faculty to develop exciting and immersive courses with a specific host city and academic theme in mind.

Every summer Fordham hosts programs abroad in London, Granada, and Rome in film, philosophy, art history, photography, Spanish language, and business. Internships are also available.

In addition to our summer portfolio, students may find courses taught in New York City during the fall and spring semesters which include a travel component to places like Athens, London, Moscow, Berlin, the Camino de Santiago, and Colombia. Whether you are an art historian or a pre-health student, we have a program for you!

“I integrated myself by spending a lot of time traveling to places around Ireland and getting to know Irish students. Taking classes to learn more about Ireland was also a nice way to learn more about its culture and history. By the end of the semester, I found myself saying Irish phrases like “cheers” and “grand” a lot.”

-Kelly Smith, Maynooth University
Fordham runs ten different semester programs at three international sites.

Fordham in London

“I believe that study abroad was the best decision I’ve made while being at Fordham. Overall, it has taught me independence and strongly instilled an appreciation for culture, especially for that which is acutely dissimilar to my own.”

-Kristen Anastasio, London Liberal Arts
 Liberal Arts
This program offers students the opportunity to take courses at the Fordham London Centre and the option to take one module (course) at one of three universities: Queen Mary, University of London (Fall Only), City University, or University of Westminster. Students who will be second semester sophomores while abroad, and who otherwise meet the requirements, may apply to study in the Sophomore Liberal Arts Program. London Centre courses in Anthropology, Art History, Communications and Media Studies, Economics, English Literature and Writing, Film and TV, History, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Theatre, and Theology are available.

 Gabelli School of Business
Few locations in Europe rival London as a place to study international business. This program provides you the opportunity to work on your core and major coursework in this European commercial center. Courses in Accounting and Taxation, Law and Ethics, Business Communications and Media Management, Finance and Business Economics, and Marketing are available and allow students to continue with their requirements while opening their eyes to new business practices and ideas.

 London Dramatic Academy
The London Dramatic Academy is an intense, thorough, enriching, empowering and thought-provoking conservatory experience. A theatrical-training challenge not for the faint-hearted. Taught by working professionals who know how to teach and who offer students exposure to the world of acting and performance in London while doing so in top of the line facilities at the Fordham London Centre.

 London Internships
Students in the London Internship program take Liberal Arts or Business courses at the London Centre. Interns work at their internship sites for approximately 2 days per week. Students work with our placement partner to secure an internship relevant to their interests and previous experience. Students accepted to the program are guaranteed an internship after comprehensive advising with our placement agency. Placements are available in Advertising, Marketing, Economics, Finance, Business, Film, Radio, Television, International Relations, Journalism, Politics, Pre-Law, Psychology, Health Science, Public Relations, and Theatre.

 Summer Programs
During the summer months students have the chance to engage with the city of London in intimate and exciting ways. Although the programs are only one to two months long, participants will explore topics using London as their classroom. Programs in Business, Liberal Arts, and Internships are available.

 London, United Kingdom
Fordham in Granada

Discovering Spain Program (Fall)
No Spanish language experience is required for this program.

Students in Fordham’s Discovering Spain Program take four courses - three content courses taught in English or Spanish, and a Spanish language and culture course at the student’s level of competency. Courses in Business, Politics, Sociology, Economics, Health Services, STEM, History, and Culture are available. Students with appropriate language skills can also take advantage of for-credit internships.

Spain in Context Program (Spring)
Advanced Spanish language skills, equivalent to SPAN 2001: Spanish Language and Literature, are required for this program.

Participants will take five courses, including SPAN 4520: Spain in Context. Depending on their academic interests and language proficiency, students can take courses at the Centro de Lenguas Modernas and facultades (departments) on topics such as Art History, Business, Communications, Culture, Economics, Geography, History, International Studies, Literature, Music, Politics, Psychology, and Sciences (Chemistry, Computer Sciences, Mathematics, Physics, etc.). Students can also take advantage of for-credit internships.

Spanish Immersion Program (Summer)
This month-long program offers Spanish classes in language, literature, and culture. Students receive instruction at the University of Granada at their appropriate level of competency and will attend several events, cultural visits, and excursions throughout Andalusia.

Fordham in Pretoria

In Association with the Desmond and Leah Tutu Legacy Foundation
Based at the University of Pretoria, the Ubuntu program offers you opportunities to do elective or major course work while being active in service learning. The service-learning component of the program provides weekly full-day experiences to engage with the local community.

“I participated in a service learning program, which enabled me to interact with community members regularly and learn primarily from people and experiences outside of the classroom.”

-Julianne Costa, Ubuntu

Pretoria, South Africa
Partner Programs
