About the Fordham Journal of Corporate & Financial Law

The Fordham Journal of Corporate & Financial Law is one of the premier student-edited business law journals in the country. Our articles, essays, notes, and comments, as well as the transcripts from our annual symposia and lectures sponsored by the Fordham Corporate Law Center, address important issues in banking, bankruptcy, corporate governance, capital markets, finance, mergers and acquisitions, securities, and tax practices. The Journal ranks as the single most-cited specialty journal in banking and finance and among the top ten specialty journals in corporations and associates.

For more information on the Fordham Journal of Corporate & Financial Law (including submission procedures), and to access commentary on emerging legal issues on our blog, please visit www.fordhamcorporatejournal.org

Guest Wi-Fi Access

1. Go to Settings> Wi-Fi and select Connect-Fordham-WiFi.
2. Open your web browser and navigate to a frequently refreshed URL, such as CNN.com. You will automatically be directed to the Fordham network welcome page. Select Join as a Guest.
   (Note: For Apple iOS devices, use only the Safari browser for this process.)
3. Agree to the acceptable use policy. You will be directed to a new website. Click Join Now.
4. Follow the prompts to complete the process, which includes downloading/installing a small configuration file that allows you to connect to our public Wi-Fi network. You may need to enter the password for the device/computer to complete the process.
5. You’ll receive a message confirming that you’ve joined the network. Click Done.

Guest Wi-Fi is available throughout Fordham University’s Lincoln Center campus. While guest access does not expire, on subsequent use with your device/computer, you may be prompted to agree to the acceptable use policy.

For more detailed, device- or computer-specific instructions, visit www.fordham.edu/wireless, pick up a more detailed instruction sheet at the information desk, or call the Fordham Law Helpdesk at 212-636-6786.

Global Investor Protection: Securities Law Enforcement Around the World

Friday, October 18, 2019
1:30 – 6 p.m.
Costantino Room
Panel 1

Eugenio J. Cárdenas, Associate, Kirkland & Ellis LLP
Merritt B. Fox, Michael E. Patterson Professor of Law, Columbia Law School

Participants Bio

Eugenio J. Cárdenas, Associate, Kirkland & Ellis LLP

Eugenio J. Cárdenas is an attorney at Kirkland and Ellis, LLP and a member of the firm’s Capital Markets practice group. His practice focuses on capital markets transactions, representing issuers and underwriters in connection with offerings of equity and debt securities and advising public companies on corporate governance, SEC compliance and disclosure matters. He holds a Doctor of the Science of Law (J.S.D.) degree from Stanford Law School, where he was a Stanford Program in International Legal Studies (SPILS) Fellow, a recipient of the John M. Olinto Program in Law and Economics Summer Research Fellowship and Co-Founder and President of the Stanford Program in Law and Economics. He holds a Master of Laws (LL.M.) degree from Fordham Law School, with a Concentration in Corporate and Governance Law, and was also a Visiting Researcher and a consultant to the Program on International Financial Systems (PIFS). During his doctoral studies at Stanford Law School, he completed an externship at the Division of Enforcement (FCPA Unit) of the SEC. Professor Cárdenas earned his J.D. from Stanford Law School, with a Concentration in Corporate and Finance Law, and was a member of the Order of the Coif.

Merritt B. Fox, Fordham Law School

Merritt B. Fox is the Saul A. Fox Distinguished Professor of Business Law, University of Pennsylvania Law School. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and past chair of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and was sworn into office as counselor to the SEC, one of the first foreign nationals to have held such a position. Professor Fox practiced law with the New York City firm of Cleary, Gottlieb, Steen & Hamilton. Professor Fisch is an associate reporter for the book “Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement”, Cambridge University Press. He is a member of the journal “International Corporation and Securities Law Review” and, for many years, has been a member of the editorial board of the Journal of Corporate Law and Governance. He teaches international securities regulation, securities regulation, corporate governance, and corporate law. He has written numerous articles on corporate, securities, and international law and co-edited several books with national and international publishers.

Jill E. Fisch, Saul A. Fox Distinguished Professor of Business Law, University of Pennsylvania Law School

Jill E. Fisch is the Saul A. Fox Distinguished Professor of Business Law and co-director of the Institute for Law and Economics of the University of Pennsylvania Law School where she teaches and writes on corporate, capital market regulation, and corporate governance matters. She is a member of the American College of Commercial Law, Judge Learned Hand Society, and is a member of the Order of the Coif. She is an S.J.D. from Harvard Law School, and an M.A. in Quantitative Methods in Social Sciences from Columbia University. Her scholarship has appeared in numerous journals and books both in Europe and in the United States, and she is a co-editor of the 2019 book “Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement” (Cambridge University Press).

Yuliya Guseva, Professor of Law, Rutgers Law School

Yuliya Guseva is the Saul A. Fox Distinguished Professor of Business Law, University of Pennsylvania Law School. Professor Guseva’s research and teaching interests are capital markets, securities law, law and economics, and cross-border transportation of business law. Her scholarship includes articles and essays published in the Boston College Law Review (reprinted in the Securities Law Review), the Columbia Business and Securities Law Review, the Cardozo Law Review, the University of Pennsylvania Journal of International Law, the Georgetown Journal of International Law, and Cambridge University Press. Her papers have been selected for presentation at the annual meetings of the American Law and Economics Association, the European Association of Law and Economics, the Association of American Law Schools, and other prestigious venues. Prior to joining Rutgers, Yuliya Guseva was a Visiting Assistant Professor at Fordham Law School, where she taught Commercial Law and International Business Transactions, and a postdoctoral research fellow in the Program in the Law and Economics of Capital Markets and a Kaufman Legal Research Fellow at Columbia Law School. Professor Guseva graduated with J.D. from the University of Vienna (Mag.jur., Dr.iur.), an S.J.D. from Stanford Law School, and an M.A. in Quantitative Methods in Social Sciences from Columbia University. She has held a Visiting Fellowship at the University of Vienna (Mag.jur., Dr.iur.), in business administration from the WU Vienna University of Economics (Mag. rer. oecon., Dr.rer. oecon.), an S.J.D. from Harvard Law School, and an M.A. in Quantitative Methods for the Social Sciences from Columbia University. Her scholarship has appeared in numerous journals and books both in Europe and in the United States, and she is a co-editor of the 2019 book “Global Securities Litigation and Enforcement” (Cambridge University Press).