

ISAP 1500 – Britain Today Seminar 1 credit

Explore the UK and London from close to home! This virtual seminar is for students who are taking London-specific courses or those who are considering studying abroad in London in the future. This seminar will provide you with a broad overview of culture, history and business in the U.K. and highlight specific fields that you may wish to explore in greater depth. Students will be assigned a weekly reading list and be expected to participate in weekly seminars and discussions on contemporary topics in the UK led by different experts on the week's topic.

Topics will include modern UK history and government; Brexit; British culture; Media in UK society; “The Special Relationship” between the US and the UK; Arts and theatre in London; Religion in Britain today; and Business and the role of the City of London as a world financial capital.
