Discovering Spain Program (Fall)

No Spanish language experience is required for this program. Students in Fordham’s Discovering Spain Program take four courses - three content courses taught in English or Spanish, and a Spanish language and culture course at the student’s level of competency. Courses in Business, Politics, Sociology, Economics, Health Services, STEM, History, and Culture are available. Students with appropriate language skills can also take advantage of for-credit internships.

Spain in Context Program (Spring)

Advanced Spanish language skills, equivalent to SPAN 2001: Spanish Language and Literature, are required for this program. Participants will take five courses, including SPAN 4520: Spain in Context. Depending on their academic interests and language proficiency, students can take courses at the Centro de Lenguas Modernas and facultades (departments) on topics such as Art History, Business, Communications, Culture, Economics, Geography, History, International Studies, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Theatre, and Theology are available.

Spanish Immersion Program (Summer)

This month-long program offers Spanish classes in language, literature, and culture. Students receive instruction at the University of Granada at their appropriate level of competency and will attend several events, cultural visits, and excursions throughout Andalucia.

SHORT-TERM PROGRAMS
Short-term study abroad programs typically range from two to four weeks allowing students who would otherwise be unable to commit to a semester or full-year overseas an opportunity to incorporate a global experience into their education. Study abroad staff work with Fordham faculty to develop exciting and immersive courses with a specific host city and academic theme in mind. Every summer Fordham hosts programs abroad in London, Granada, and Rome in film, philosophy, art history, photography, Spanish language, and business. Internships are also available.
In addition to our summer portfolio, students may find courses taught in New York City during the fall and spring semesters which include a travel component to places like Athens, London, Moscow, Berlin, the Camino de Santiago, and Colombia. Whether you are an art historian or a pre-health student, we have a program for you.

"My host family really made my experience magical, and provided complete support in terms of my social integration in Granada. They were perfect talking buddies when I wanted to practice Spanish, they always had good advice on where to go and would take my roommate and I out for tapas, shopping, etc., and were generally supportive and caring. Truly a home away from home and I miss them dearly.”

-Samantha Brandt, Fordham in Granada: Discovering Spain
