Spotlight on ESG

How ESG is Transforming the Compliance Risk Landscape and What Compliance Professionals Need to Know to Adapt

February 9, 2021
11 a.m. – 1 p.m. EDT
Zoom Webinar

CLE COURSE MATERIALS
Table of Contents

1. Speaker Biographies

2. CLE Materials

Spotlight on ESG: How ESG is Transforming the Compliance Risk Landscape and What Compliance Professionals Need to Know to Adapt

The Competition for ESG Performance Ratings - Risk and Opportunities and ESG's Impact on Supply Chain Risk Management

- Alison Taylor, Large Companies Have a Key Role in Strengthening Small Supplier Integrity, Business for Social Responsibility (Feb 2019)
- Nicole Bigby et al., Ethics and Integrity Beyond Compliance, World Economic Forum (Oct 2020)
Robert Mascola, Senior Director Compliance Programs and Adjunct Professor, Fordham Law School

Robert Mascola, JD, is the Senior Director of Compliance Programs at Fordham Law School, where he is responsible for all of the law school’s compliance education, including overseeing the compliance curriculum for J.D., LL.M., and Master of Studies in Law (M.S.L.) degrees.

Prior to joining Fordham Law, Mascola was the Deputy Chief Compliance Officer at Barrick Gold Corporation, an international mining corporation with operations and projects across the globe, and was Director of Ethics and Compliance at Philip Morris International. Mascola was also previously in private practice at international law firm Arnold & Porter LLP. He is currently on the Board of the Ethics and Compliance Association.

Mascola earned his J.D. from Harvard Law School and M.A. in International Affairs from The George Washington University. He also holds an A.B. from Harvard College.

ANDREA BONIME-BLANC, CEO GEC Risk Advisory

Andrea Bonime-Blanc, JD/PhD, is CEO and Founder of GEC Risk Advisory and a global governance, risk, ESG, ethics, cyber and crisis strategist, serving a broad cross-section of business, nonprofits, and government agencies. Since 2017, she has served as the Independent Ethics Advisor to the Financial Oversight and Management Board for Puerto Rico.

Dr. Bonime-Blanc spent two decades as a c-suite global corporate executive at Bertelsmann, Verint, and PSEG including serving as general counsel and chief ethics, risk, compliance and CSR officer, and overseeing a wide variety of functions including legal, governance, risk, ethics, corporate responsibility, government relations, strategic communications, crisis management, compliance, audit, InfoSec and environmental health and safety. She began her career as an international corporate lawyer at Cleary Gottlieb. She was born and raised in Germany and Spain and is multi-lingual.

She serves on several Boards and Advisory Boards including Crisp (a UK-based risk intelligence firm), Greenward Partners (a Spanish green energy firm), Ethical Intelligence (an EU-based AI ethics firm), Epic Theatre Ensemble (a NYC nonprofit), the NACD New Jersey Chapter (where she serves as Nominations/Governance Committee Chair) and NYU Stern-based think tank, Ethical Systems. She is a NACD Board Leadership Fellow and Governance Faculty and holds the Carnegie Mellon CERT Certification in Cyber-Risk Oversight. She is faculty at NYU’s Center for Global Affairs.
Masters program teaching “Cyber Leadership, Risk Oversight and Resilience” & a member of the NYU CGA Cyber Advisory Council.

Andrea is a global speaker, including at Davos, and is quoted/appears regularly on Bloomberg TV, Yahoo Finance, Cheddar, Wall Street Journal, FT Agenda, BBC, NYT and other media. She is an extensively published author of dozens of articles and several books including The Reputation Risk Handbook, Emerging Practices in Cyber-Risk Governance and The Artificial Intelligence Imperative. Her latest book, Gloom to Boom: How Leaders Transform Risk into Resilience and Value (Routledge 2020) debuted as an Amazon #1 Hot Release in Business Ethics and Game Theory. She lives in New York City with her family and is an avid photographer and artist.

Rebecca O’Neill, Sr. Program Manager ESG, Marvell Semiconductor

Rebecca O'Neill is currently the Senior Program Manager of ESG at Marvell Technologies, spearheading the company's sustainability strategy, engagements and transparency. She has 15 years of experience in the corporate sustainability field. Prior to Marvell, she was Principal Consultant at SustainAbility and helped to found the SustainAbility Institute by ERM. While at SustainAbility, she helped Fortune 500 clients such as Dell, Nike and Shell with their sustainability strategy and stakeholder engagement efforts. Other previous roles include Sustainability Manager at Safeway, Director at Future 500 and Business & Biodiversity Manager at Fauna & Flora International. She holds an MSc in Environmental Technology from Imperial College London and a BA in Biological Science from Oxford University.

Peter Tomczak, Chair of the North America Litigation and Government Enforcement Practice Group, Baker & McKensie

Peter Tomczak serves as the Chair of Baker McKenzie's North America Litigation and Government Enforcement Practice Group. Peter serves on the North America Pricing Committee, and oversees the practice group's development and review of non-hourly fee based arrangements, or AFAs. In addition, he serves as a member of the Global Steering Committee of the Firm’s Industrials, Manufacturing and Transportation (IMT) industry group. He joined Baker McKenzie in 2003, after having served as a law clerk for the Delaware Court of Chancery.
Caroline Petruzzi McHale, Cleary Gottlieb Steen & Hamilton
Caroline Petruzzi McHale’s practice focuses on cross-border investigatory, advisory and enforcement work, including assisting clients in developing compliance, governance and risk management frameworks that respond to the requirements of multiple jurisdictions. She also advises on corporate social responsibility matters, including ESG and climate-related disclosures, responsible sourcing and sustainability in operations. She maintains an active pro bono practice and is admitted to the Bars of Paris and New York.

Vera Cherepanova, Studio Etica
Vera Cherepanova is a former Regional Compliance Officer and author of “Compliance Program of an Organisation.” Vera has worked on the ground in Eastern Europe, CIS and Russia. Taking her experience in addressing the cross-cultural challenges of ethics and compliance, Vera currently consults with international corporations, non-profits, wholesale and retail establishments, and small to large businesses, advising them on ethics and compliance programmes. Vera speaks Russian, English, French, and Italian.

Alison Taylor, Executive Director, Ethical Systems, Senior Advisor, BSR, and Adjunct Professor, NYU Stern School of Business
Alison Taylor is Executive Director of Ethical Systems, a research collaboration housed at NYU, and an Adjunct Professor at NYU Stern School of Business, teaching professional responsibility and leadership. She is also a Senior Advisor at non profit consultancy BSR, and ESG investigations firm Wallbrook. Alison a long track record of consulting for large multinational companies, on strategy, sustainability, political and social risk, culture and behavior, human rights, ethics and compliance, stakeholder engagement, ESG, and anti-corruption. She is a 2019- 20 member of the World Economic Forum’s Global Future Council on Transparency and Anti-Corruption. Alison previously held leadership roles at BSR and Control Risks, and has worked at PwC, Transparency International, and IHS Global Insight. She has a BA from Balliol College, Oxford University, an MA in International Relations from the University of Chicago, and an MA in Organizational Psychology from Columbia University.