

Fordham Society for Small Businesses presents

The COVID PPP Loans - Supporting Small Business, Avoiding Fraud

April 6, 2022 | 4:10 - 5:10 p.m.

Fordham Law School

via Zoom Webinar

CLE credit for this program is approved in accordance with the requirements of the New York State CLE Board for a maximum of 1.0 transitional and non-transitional professional practice credit.

FORDHAM UNIVERSITY
THE SCHOOL OF LAW

About the Program

In March 2020, lawyers stood at the ready when Congress announced that its emergency legislation would include a new lending program: forgivable loans for small businesses, or the Paycheck Protection Program. The new program would go through three rounds, with hiccups and improvements along the way — and now a growing DOJ docket of fraud cases.

Join the Fordham Society for Small Businesses for a panel discussion about emergency aid, loan applications, and small-business infrastructure.

Agenda

4:10 - 5:10 p.m. | The COVID PPP Loans — Supporting Small Business, Avoiding Fraud

Sara M. Lord, Arnall Golden Gregory LLP

Dafina Williams, Opportunity Finance Network

Suzanne Ulicny '05, U.S. Small Business Administration

Moderated by: Prof. Susan Block-Lieb, Fordham Law School

CLE credit for this program is pending in accordance with the requirements of the New York State CLE Board for a maximum of 1.0 transitional and non-transitional professional practice credit.