

Gyula Klima presented “Intentions, Species, Sensations: What Can We Learn from John Buridan (ca. 1300-1362) about Sensory Awareness?” at the Eleventh Annual Hawaii International Conference on Arts & Humanities in Honolulu, HI on January 14th.

Nathan Ballantyne presented "Counterfactual Philosophers" at a Symposium session of the American Philosophical Association Eastern Division Meeting in Atlanta on December 30th (forthcoming in Philosophy and Phenomenological Research).

Stephen Grimm has received a $3.56 million grant from the John Templeton Foundation as project leader of the interdisciplinary initiative, “Varieties of Understanding: New Perspectives from Psychology, Philosophy, and Theology.” The three-year project will sponsor research in the three named fields into the various ways in which human beings understand the world, and receives additional support from the Henry Luce Foundation, Fordham University, and the University of California, Berkeley.

Giorgio Pini has been elected a Visiting Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford, for the academic year 2013–14.

Jeff Flynn was awarded Membership at the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, NJ for 2013-14, where he will work on a new book project titled Saving Distant Strangers: Humanitarianism in History, Morality, and Contemporary Practice.
Graduate Student Presentations

Joe Vukov presented "Kuhn on Rationality and Values in Revolutionary Theory Choice" at Kuhn’s The Structure of Scientific Revolutions: 50 Years On, held by the Greater Philadelphia Philosophy Consortium at the College of New Jersey on December 1st. He also presented "Kripke and the Problem of Sharp Cutoffs" at the Minnesota Philosophical Society Conference at St. Catherine’s University, St. Paul, MN on October 27th.

Alumni News

Tom Regan, S.J., (1984) Associate Professor of Philosophy, Loyola University of Chicago, was elected to the Fordham University Board of Trustees at their December meeting. Fr. Regan directs the M.A. program for Jesuit scholastics and serves as the Academic Dean of St. Joseph College, the undergraduate seminary for the Archdiocese of Chicago.

Questions, comments and submissions may be sent to: ajampolpetzinger@fordham.edu