Faculty Publications

Nathan Ballantyne co-authored an article entitled "Moral Intuitionism Defeated?" (with Joshua Thurow, UT San Antonio), which appeared in American Philosophical Quarterly 50:4 (October 2013).

Faculty Presentations

Jennifer Gosetti-Ferencei was the keynote speaker at the Red Star Line Philosophy Conference on the topic of Animals in Philosophical Argument in Antwerp, Belgium, and she presented a lecture entitled 'The Imagination of Animals’ on September 21, 2013. Professor Gosetti-Ferencei also presented a talk on ‘The Functions of Imagination’ at the conference of The Balzan Foundation Project, Thinking With Literature, in Oslo, Norway on September 12, 2013.

Babette Babich gave a lecture “Future Past: The Gay Science, Thus Spoke Zarathustra, and Eternity” at the Friedrich Nietzsche Society at University College, Cork, Ireland on September 21, 2013.

Other Faculty News

Merold Westphal was recently honored as Alumnus of the Year at Wheaton Academy. While in town he gave a lecture at Wheaton College entitled "Kant, Hegel, and the Fate of Reason."

John Davenport appeared on a Russian television station, NTV, in September as a commentator on the Syria crisis and disagreements between the US and Russia.

Samir Haddad was invited to be an editor on Philpapers.org for the category of “Jacques Derrida.”
Thomas Kiefer presented his essay “Kata Phusin: Ancient and Contemporary Perspectives on the Hermeneutic of Animality” at the fifth biannual Philosophical Red Star Line conference held at the University of Antwerp on September 21, 2013.

Michael Begun presented a text seminar entitled "The Real Problem of Man: Human Animality in the Second Treatise of Nietzsche’s Zur Genealogie der Moral” at the fifth biannual Philosophical Red Star Line conference held at the University of Antwerp on September 19, 2013.

Lillian Cicirchia presented a text seminar entitled "Man as a Historical Animal: Marx’s The German Ideology” at the fifth biannual Philosophical Red Star Line conference held at the University of Antwerp on September 19, 2013.

Terence D. Cuneo (1999) published a review of C. Stephen Evans’ God and Moral Obligation in Notre Dame Philosophical Reviews http://ndpr.nd.edu/news/41665-god-and-moral-obligation/. He also gave a talk entitled "Questions for Timothy Rosenkoetter on Kant” at the University of Vermont/Dartmount’s annual philosophy symposium. He also had two articles accepted for publication: The first is called "Protesting Evil" and will appear in Theology Today and the second is called "Liturgical Immersion" and will appear in the Journal of Analytic Theology.

