Announcing a course in July of 2017 at Fordham University in Manhattan **

U.N. & POLITICAL LEADERSHIP (ORGL 2800)

An experienced Ambassador reviews diverse aspects of diplomacy, decision-making, and political leadership at the United Nations—theory, research, practice, ethical issues. Includes exercises, fieldwork, and visits with the U.N. diplomatic community.

 Summer 2017, meets 6-9 pm Monday-Thursday, (4 nights for 5 weeks,) July 5- August 8, at Fordham U, 113 West 60 St., NYC. Housing is available. For details, check www.Fordham.edu/summer or http://thedailyshow.cc.com/guests/hamid_al-bayati or news.fordham.edu/politics-and-society/united-nations-is-grist-for-summer-course-at-lincoln-center-campus/