

Fordham GSAS Advanced Certificates

To apply for an advanced certificate program, apply online here.

For a full list of GSAS Academic Programs, see here.

AI for Cybersecurity

Provides a background in data science and cybersecurity. Can be attended on a part-time basis. 15 credit (5 course) program. Rolling admissions.

Health Care Ethics

Provides a background in current ethical controversies on policy-relevant issues in health care. 12 credit (4 course) program, with a capstone course culminating in a mentored paper.

Humanitarian Training Courses (Hybrid)

Individual courses, each of which provide a background in some aspect of humanitarian crises and disasters. Course topics vary by semester.

International Diploma in Humanitarian Assistance

Intensive, four-week course with the Institute of International Humanitarian Affairs. Dates and locations vary by year.

Medieval Studies

Doctoral-level certificate. Provides an interdisciplinary concentration for those working on the Medieval period. 15 credit (5 course) program, including a course in Latin paleography. Must demonstrate a reading knowledge of Latin (and Greek where appropriate) as well as two modern languages other than English. Must pass comprehensive exams in the two areas of specialization. Provides eligibility to apply for a second senior teaching fellowship, which provides an additional year of funding.

Rhetoric and Writing

Provides an interdisciplinary approach to the study of discourse and its impact on culture, politics, and everyday life. 12 credit (4 course) program.