Helpful Tips & Advice

Advice to share with victims of sexual assault and/or abuse

- Collect your thoughts, take a breath, and find a safe place. Individuals are encouraged to report all incidents immediately either to Public Safety, Dean of Students, or other trusted staff - student or professional.
- Do not change clothes, shower, use the restroom, or destroy any clothing. It is important to remain in the same condition as when the incident occurred.
- Seek medical attention either on or off campus. Public Safety will help finding medical assistance.
- After the incident, you may suffer from emotional stress - this is normal. The University has various support services and off-campus resources that can support you.

CONSENT

Affirmative consent is defined as a knowing, voluntary and mutual decision among all participants to engage in sexual activity. Consent can be given by words or actions, as long as those words or actions create clear permission regarding willingness to engage in the sexual activity. Silence or lack of resistance does not demonstrate consent. The definition of consent never varies based on a participants sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, or sexuality.
